The holiday baking edition

Clover Sonoma products start with milk sourced from a small group of family farms that are spacious, regional ranches tending small herds in Marin, Sonoma and Mendocino counties. These dairy farmers practice methods of sustainable agriculture and have an extraordinary commitment to animal welfare with no 'feedlot' living. The farmers do not use rBST, the genetically engineered bovine growth hormone that stimulates milk production.

We currently stock a full line of conventional dairy from Clover Sonoma. We believe the quality speaks for itself and have since made it our main dairy line.
